

The Principal Profile

Sean McCormack
System Lead, Anti-Oppression
Durham District School Board

How do you work with schools to help dismantle racism and discrimination, and promote human rights?

“ For me, the work is rooted in intentionally creating opportunities for authentic and meaningful connections to uncover the fabrics that bind us together. I try to offer learning that intentionally inspires all educators’ commitment to listening to personal narratives, to construct spaces that allow for the beauty of diversity to thrive, so that everyone can be seen, welcomed and embraced. ”